The family will pick these items up sometime next week.

Alternatively, for those who want may be interested in a charitable contribution, please consider the following:

From the family: “Our father and husband valued education as a great societal equalizer. He was a voracious reader and had a wide range of interests. We feel that his legacy would be best celebrated through donations to Brian and Arnold’s high school, Bellarmine College Preparatory in San Jose. If you would like to make a donation in memory of Steven Song, there will be envelopes available at the service or you may give online at the address below:
